The Household Backup Plan Kit: The “Write It Down Once” System For When Life Goes Sideways

What You Need In Case of Emergencies

There are a handful of household things that are easy to ignore… right up until you need them right now.

- Where are the important documents?
- What’s the Wi-Fi password again?
- Where’s the main water shutoff?
- What does the babysitter need to know?
- What do you do with bored kids when you’re running on fumes?

The problem is, the worst time to organize any of this is when you’re already stressed.

That’s why I put together the Household Backup Plan Kit.

It’s a simple set of pages you fill out in your web browser and print. No accounts. No complicated system. Just a “get it done and feel better” kit you can knock out in about an hour.

You’ll have everything in one place, and you’ll feel better once this important task is done.

What This Kit Helps You Avoid

I’m not trying to be dramatic here, but this is real life:

- The “something broke and I don’t know where anything is” scramble.
- The “we should really have this written down” guilt spiral.
- The “I’m not reachable and someone needs info fast” stress.
- The “kids are bored and I’m out of ideas” meltdown.

This kit is basically a calm, practical backup plan for those moments.

You Can Finally Build Your Household Emergency Binder and Be Ready

This kit will help you get there. It’s something every household needs because you never know what might happen.

What’s Inside The Household Backup Plan Kit:

1. Home basics

This is the “if something happens, nobody has to guess” section.

- Fridge Emergency Sheet
  address, Wi-Fi, emergency contacts, medical/allergies, utility shutoffs
- Babysitter / House-Sitter Sheet
  kids routines, rules, neighbor contact, meeting spot, and more
- Important Documents Sheet
  birth certificates, passports, insurance policies, car titles, will/trust, and more
- Pets Care Sheet
  vet info, feeding instructions, meds, habits/fears
- Home Quick Info
  spare key locations, alarm/garage codes, filter size, water heater location, trash day, trusted service companies, etc.

2. Home maintenance

A simple maintenance calendar and checklist system so “boring stuff” doesn’t turn into expensive surprises.

- Seasonal checklists
- Monthly “10-minute checks”
- “What to do when…” quick-fix guidance
- Annual reminders

3. Kids activities when you’re tired

This is for real life — the days you don’t have the energy to be a cruise director.

- 30 low-effort screen-free ideas
- Printable scavenger hunts
- Boredom jar cards
- 5-minute setup list
- Solo play + quiet time ideas

4. ICE (in case of emergency) wallet cards

A printable sheet with six “ICE” wallet cards you can cut out and keep on you.

5. Annual maintenance master list

A simple “command center” page for the whole year.

How The Kit Works

After purchase, you’ll download a zip file that includes the pages and a “Start Here” index. You open each page in your browser, type your info, and print.

- Works best on desktop/laptop for printing.
- Your info stays on your computer — nothing is uploaded.

Who This Kit is For

- You’ve ever thought: “I should really write this stuff down…”
- You want your household to run smoother when you’re busy, stressed, or out of town.
- You want something a spouse/partner can use too (without relying on memory or text threads).
- You want the comfort of knowing someone could handle basic household needs if you weren’t reachable.

FAQs About the Household Backup Plan Kit

Do I need any special software?

No. You open the pages in a web browser, fill them out, and print.

Does this store my info online?

No. You’re filling it out locally in your browser and printing (or saving a PDF). Nothing is uploaded.

How long does it take to set up?

Most people can get it done in about 30–60 minutes.

Is this only for families with kids?

No — the home basics and maintenance sections are useful for any household. The kids section is there if you need it.

Can I print multiple copies?

Yes. Print one for your fridge, one for a binder, and keep one for travel if you want.
