SideShift is a UGC (user-generated content) creator marketplace app that connects brands with content creators — no follower count required to start earning. Creators can land paid brand deals, manage campaigns, send invoices, and track contracts and earnings all in one place, with instant payouts to their bank account once work is approved. It's positioned as a way for anyone, especially Gen Z creators, students, and side-hustlers, to turn content creation into a real income stream.
